Foreword

THE Rosebud of 1926-27, we are sending you out into the world as a testimony of our sincere effort to preserve in a few glimpses of our high school days and to portray the spirit and environment in which we have spent them. And if in later years, your soiled pages bring fond memories to the heart that has forgotten, we are sure your mission will have been attained.

Dedication

WE the class of '27 of the Waterloo High School dedicate this volume to our beloved parents. It was their love words of encouragement and sacrifice that have carried us far on the path of life. Our sincere effort is that all of us may be able to clarify this debt that can never be repaid in material things.

A MESSAGE

THE greatest prerogative that a person possesses is his privilege to work. Few words have such individual, and yet such varied meaning as the word "work," and no form of action has such a diversity of conception due to the many viewpoints of work. Ask a child its viewpoint of work and it will answer, "Anything I am made to do is work, and anything I want to do is play", which answer shows that the child has a certain conception of work and also that work has been presented to its mind as a kind of drudgery.

Too many people of today consider work as drudgery. Drudgery is work which we make difficult; which is done because we must do it, and which we regard with aversion; it is the hard, sordid form of work, done without hope and apart from the joy of accomplishment. Such work is never well done, has no real purpose, no lasting result, and worst of all it shrivels the soul of the worker so that his work becomes more and more irksome.

Work should be a real pleasure; a joy; it should be the motive of our lives; and it would be if we regarded it as a labor of love. "Thou shalt earn thy bread by the sweat of thy brow", has been looked upon too much as a curse when it should be considered as a blessing, a blessing to know that man has been created with a power of accomplishing something within himself, such a power given to nothing other of creation.

But we have come to think of labor with almost a sense of pain. Most of us resolve our work into labor, and while it results in accomplishment, it becomes unpleasant and strenuous in the method of its execution.

Do you recall that when the political enemies of that great Athenian, Epaminondas, had him appointed city scavenger of Athens he remarked "It is not Epaminonads that will sink to the level of city scavenger, but the office of city scavenger will be elevated to the rank of Epaminondas." And why? Because the great man had learned to love his work. Why the great works of art? Why the great sculptures? Why the great masterpieces of architecture? Was it not because some one loved his work and had hopes of success?

Young man, young woman of the class of '27: you say: "You came, you saw, you conquered." Yes, you came, you saw, but you will not conquer unless you learn to love your work. The secret of the true love of work is the hope of success in that work; not for the money reward, not for the time spent, not for the skill exercised; but for the successful result in the accomplishment of the work itself.

FACULTY

THE SCHOOL EDIFICE

WE the members of the Waterloo High School wish to show our appreciation of this cause which we have striven for many a year to gain, and to the purpose which it renders.

The New High School building is one of the most outstanding structures in the community. It is an institution that the community should stress their gratitude for the benefit of the young people that are now preparing to take their places in the world for the future.

This new home stands as a masterpiece of architecture; its beautiful views, its structure, and the spacious tract upon which it stands add much to the aesthetic value. No thoughts of appreciation could ever be expressed mentally by us young people to the cause of this fact.

THE EDITOR

THE NEW HIGH SCHOOL

THE WATERLOO HIGH

I

Of all the schools in the land
From the east to the west,
There is one that's near to us,
There is one that we love best;
That one in times gone by,
Has been known as the Waterloo High.

II

Four short years is but a brief time
In the life that we hope to live,
Let those years be the key to success,
And an honor to our dear school give;
Those four years will soon pass by,
If we apply ourselves in the Waterloo High.

III

The athletic season is now at hand,
Our teams are in the field,
Let us get behind them, give them our support
So their opponents may be forced to yield;
Let us show our loyalty as the weeks go by,
For the athletic teams of the Waterloo High.

IV

Other schools may boast of greater numbers than ours,
Some schools may claim greater fraternity powers,
But for the scholastic work we do here in our new home,
We throw a challenge to all, wherever that challenge may roam,
So let us Freshmen, Sophomores, Juniors, Senior and faculty try
To work together and pull for our Waterloo High.

SENIOR CLASS HISTORY

Introduction

The following volumes contain the written account of the deeds of the noble class of 1927, which this year leaves its high school days forever:

Volume 1

One bright September morning in 1923, thirty-one industrious Freshmen entered the gates of the assembly room at the old building.

During the year eight members left our happy circle and four joined us.

The class officers were: Arling McIntosh, President, Opal Hollinger, Secretary, (she left the class so Wayne Voss took up her duties), Iris Myers, Treasurer, Josephine Loftus, Poet, Mildred Bachtel, Historian.

This year proved very successful and every member lived up to the motto: We came, we saw, we conquered.

Volume 2

The next year we entered the higher round of the ladder of success with an enrollment of twenty-four. This year we lost one member who continued her work at Ashley. The officers were this year: Wayne Voss, President, Donald Byers, Secretary, Dorothy Gifford, Treasurer, Celestia Hanes, Poet, Ora Zerkle, Historian.

Volume 3

This volume tells of our experience as upper classmen. At the beginning of the year we had an enrollment of twenty-one members but during the year one of our faithful members found it more convenient to continue his work at Butler.

We all worked eagerly as next year we were to enter the gates of the new building. The class officers were: Kathryn Rigg, President, Luther Hallet, Secretary, Ora Zerkle, Treasurer, Celestia Hanes, Poet, Ora Zerkle, Historian.

Volume 4

This year we entered the gates of the new building with much vigor and pride and had an enrollment of twenty-three members.

To our dismay we were scattered about the assembly with the lower classmen. This obstacle with many others arose during the year but with the hearty co-operation of the class and officers they were overtrodden. The officer were: Ora Zerkle, President; Richard O'Brien, Secretary; Bruce Shugart, Treasurer; Celestia Hanes, Poet; Dorothy Bonecutter, Historian. Through all of these years we have held to our motto, "We came, we saw, we conquered."

SENIOR CONSOLATION

These four years we've been together,
United with bonds that held us fast,
Have fled and those bonds must sever—
Seniors, our school days are past!

They are gone, our jolly times together,
Our days of toil and hours of play;
Only fond memories are vivid,
As each must go his own way.

Sad thoughts come creeping to our minds,
To make us realize the truth;
That our lives are spreading before us,
And driving away our youth.

Farewell, dear old school and teachers,
Farewell, each and all the rest;
May we leave this one memoir with you,
That we have done our best.

Now we launch our craft upon life's sea,
"Veni, Vidi, Vici," is our cry;
As our harbor, the school is lost to sight,
Our cherished,——————Good bye!

—Celestia Hanes '27.

SENIOR CLASS WILL

We, the class of '27 in the city of Waterloo, county of DeKalb, the state of Indiana, and being of sound minds, keen judgment, and happy-go-lucky ways, bequeath and publish this last will and testament, destroying all former ones made by us.

Item 1: We appoint Mr. W. H. Mustard as the sole executor of this will and document.

Item 2: It is our will that all of our just debts be paid out of our estate and the remainder be given to the "Faculty" and underclassmen to aid them in their work.

(1) I, Celestia Hanes will my ability as class poet to Viola Shultz.

(2) I, Eugene Showalter will my ability of robbing the cradle to Wilbur Kimmel.

(3) I, Harold Christoffel will my surplus height to Edward Schlosser.

(4) I, Agnes Kline will my ability of having out of town friends to Thelma Cherry.

(5) I, Arling McIntosh will be mathematical ability to Floyd Heighn.

(6) I, Ora Zerkle will my ability of holding offices to Pierce Ayers.

(7) I, Dorothy Bonecutter will my ability of chewing gum to Thelma Farrington.

(8) I, Wayne Voss will my basket ball ability to Ralph Childs.

(9) I, Buell Smalley will my bashfulness to Ralph Frick.

(10) I, Russell Palmer will my dignity to Noah Hamman.

(11) I, Howard Bard will my ability of public speaking to Wayne Crooks.

(12) I, Bruce Shugart will my ability of being tardy to Martha Griffin.

(13) I, Dorothy Gifford will my facial beauty and heart to some young unfortunate maid in the H. S.

(14) I, Donald Pease will my winsome smile to Charles Hodges or Clive Ayers.

(15) I, Wilson Shaffer will my ability to travel to Paul Ankney.

(16) I, Clyde Bryant will my ability of bluffing to Edward Matson.

(17) I, Luther Hallett will my ability of arguing to Clayton Warner.

(18) I, Iris Myers will my musical ability to Virginia Bachtel.

(19) I, Richard O'Brien will my artistic ability to June Campbell.

(20) I, Irene Deitzen will my ability of getting good grades to Maxine Voss.

(21) I, Milford Snyder will my ability of being heard in class to Harold Bonecutter.

(22) I, George Dilley will my ability of raising spuds to Walter Wing.

(23) I, Kathryn Rigg will my spirit of Dan Cupid to Roy Smalley.

We, the Senior Class of '27 sign and seal this last will and testament on this first day of May, 1927, A. D.

SENIOR CLASS PROPHECY

San Francisco, Cal.
May 28, 1940.

Dear Dorothy: :

As I was unpacking one of my trunks the other day I found some of the name cards of my former classmates and a picture of your new home in the mountains. It doesn't surprise me at all since your husband is the successor of J. P. Morgan. Finding these things certainly reminded me of the happy days we spent together at the old and new W. H. S.

About a week ago I met Arling McIntosh at one of the large office buildings where he is employed. It certainly was a surprise to me but he said he had come west to try to forget his disappointment as Kathryn Rigg broke his heart and married Howard Bard.

The other morning a Daily Tribune (of which George Dilley is editor) was thrown upon my porch. By looking through the society edition I learned Dorothy Gifford and Iris Myers were touring Europe for the historical facts they could locate as they were to receive their Ph. D. degree from the Columbia University in June.

I see Wayne Voss and Ora Zerkle occasionally as they pass through here on their trips to the "KLONDIKE" where they are hunting gold. They seem very prosperous in their hunt.

It was much to my surprise, the other day when I went to Los Angeles, that I met Agnes Kline and Celestia Hanes. They said they were going to Hollywood where they made a two year contract for the stage with the Shugart, Hallett and Smalley Sceno Co. These were the three same jolly boys that were with us back in the W. H. S. They have some of the best stars in their cast.

I have learned that Russell Palmer has been recently married and is teaching in the LaOtto schools.

In a recent letter from home I was told that Milford Snyder was married but was still raising spuds down on the farm; also Harold Christoffel is a champion baseball player for the "St. Louis Cardinals". Richard O'Brien has won world wide fame as an artist. I've also heard that Clyde Bryant is employed as janitor at the new Medical College at Denver, Col., which was erected by Drs. Pease and Showalter.

I'm certainly glad to know that our class has been prosperous and hope they will continue their good work.

Just one more week and I am going to the Philippines where I am employed as a government secretary.

Sincerely yours,
Irene Deitzen

JUNIOR CLASS HISTORY

We the alert Juniors entered the Waterloo High, as Freshmen in the year of nineteen hundred and twenty-four with an enrollment of forty-one. Being the largest class that ever entered the W. H. S. our aim was to retain this number throughout the four years but alas; during the first year seven dropped from the ranks leaving us thirty-four to enter next years battle as Silly Sophs.

Coming back the next year we found twenty-nine of our old members and a new one assembled making us thirty, but two left us during the year and so ended the Sophomore year.

During the summer our new High was rapidly nearing completion and we looked forward with great pleasure of spending the next two years in this building. Our hopes were fully realized when we with twenty-six old members and two new ones entered our new home which was the pride and joy of Waterloo and Grant Township. During the first semester three of our classmates left us but another entered at the beginning of second semester making our number twenty-six. We hope to retain this number when next year we as Seniors will have the honor of being the second class to graduate from the New W. H. S.

—Mary Lu Kiplinger, W. H. S. '28

JUNIOR CLASS POEM

A group is not a class until
They've showed their sport and proven their skill.
Then their honors legally
Can be presented to the eye.

This behold is what we've done,
We've proven our skill, our goal is won;
From here we will participate,
As a full fledged class of '28.

We shall henceforth defy them all,
Advance to contest at the call,
And win the honors of the town
The town where we have lived and grown.

Now don't think we're susceptible
We're not, we're undefeatable.
And if you others wish to win,
Shun the contest we are in.

Because we're out to win, and why?
We like to see our colors fly,
Then do not wonder when we beat,
And you are burdened with defeat.

CLASS OF TWENTY-NINE

There is honor in each of us
    It should be superfine;
We'll strive to bring it to the top,
    Says the Class of Twenty-Nine.

Although we are each for ourself,
    One cannot break our line;
For united we stand one and all
    As the Class of Twenty-Nine.

The years leap by in succession,
    Which brings to us the sign:
That in two more years will graduate
    Our Class of Twenty-Nine.

Our will and obedience help us,
    To win for ourselves a shine;
That will stamp us in the "Rosebud"
    The honored Class of Twenty-Nine.

—Aileen Smith '29

SOPHOMORE CLASS HISTORY

The class of '29 mounted the stairs of the old Waterloo High one year ago. We lost some members but finished with a total of twenty.

This year we started the term with twenty-one but was diminished to nineteen.

We feel very proud to be the first Sophomore class in the new High School, and hope the same nineteen Sophomores will enter next year as Jolly Juniors.

FRESHMAN CLASS POEM

As the Freshman Class of Nineteen-Thirty,
Our standards we proudly hold;
The colors of honorable class,
We want all to behold.

We have three more years to study,
Till the heights are reached for which we aim;
We will all play square and help each other,
That is in the game.

When we are seniors strong and sturdy,
And to our class we have been true;
There will be nothing to regret or say,
That is what we will let our class motto do.

—James Bricker '30

FRESHMAN CLASS HISTORY

On September 7, 1926, the Freshman class entered the new Waterloo High School. We were thirty-five in number but later another member joined us and made our enrollment thirty-six.

We were a jolly bunch of green Freshman but we look forward to the day when we shall become the wise "Seniors" of the W. H. S.

EIGHTH GRADE POEM

Who's the brightest class in school,
Who obeys every law and rule,
And has each lesson correctly done?
Why, the class of thirty-one.

There are twenty-seven girls and lads,
To follow fashion and create fads,
And join in all the work and fun—
In this class of thirty-one.

There's basket ball and baseball
There's race through the hall
To rest us when our work is done,
We're the class of thirty-one.

Next year when we're Freshmen in High
We'll go onward with joyous cry,
And with many honors won,
To the class of thirty-one.

SEVENTH GRADE CLASS POEM

We have a very fine class, indeed,
For working hard and also with speed;
We are now a class of twenty-one,
Some never knew us until they could come,
To Junior High, Waterloo, for some of their fun.

We now are in the seventh grade,
And do our best, and try to wade
Through studies hard, and also play,
Our colors are pencil blue and gray,
Of the class we're proud, we'll always say.

We hope the class will stay clear through,
At the end we'll do some stunts for you,
And on our graduation day,
Will feel justly proud to hear folks say:
"It's a mighty fine class of '32."
Good-bye old school, good-bye to you!

EIGHTH GRADE HISTORY

In the year of nineteen hundred eighteen, twenty-six members of this class who will soon graduate, started to school. This was regarded as one of the greatest events in our young lives; next to this was to spend the last four years of our grade work in this so longed for new building. These eight years of school have been anything but easy and we have spent many an hour studying some difficult problems that have come before us, but with the help of our parents, teachers and friends we have solved these. We are now proud of those records that we've made in these struggles.

All twenty-six of us are planning on entering the Freshman class next year. This Freshman class will be the first class which has graduated from the eighth grade in the new building. We are proud of the honor for so many classes which went on before us have longed for this opportunity.

We have yet to thank the teachers, not only our personal teachers but the rest of the faculty who have helped us through, when our own hopes were nearly shattered, the business men for their co-operation and the ministers who have tried to make us better boys and girls.

—Vivian Wing

SEVENTH GRADE HISTORY

We started in the first grade in 1920 with a membership of thirty. As we went upward through the grades some of our members left us while a few new ones joined us. Our first grade teacher was Miss Hollopeter; in the second grade we had Miss Eberly. Miss Sanders was our teacher in the third and fourth grades. Through the fifth, sixth and seventh Mrs. Ettinger has been our teacher. Under Mrs. Ettinger we organized our class in the seventh grade with the following officers: Ralph Imes, president; Geraldine Rufner, vice-president; Maxine McIntarfer, secretary; Virginia Davis, treasurer; Dorothy Goodwin, historian; Helen Moyer, poet. Of the thirty members who started in the first grade, eleven remain. The enrollment of our class onw is twenty-one.

MUSIC

The Waterloo High School has reached a high standard in the musical line this year. Our musical instructor, Miss Fisher has put forth great effort in instructing the Glee Club on chorus work, also the double quartette.

There is one period each day set aside for Glee Club work during which they are given biographies of great musicians and composers besides the vocal training.

March 11, an elimination contest was held in the auditorium for the musical contest. March 18, at St. Joe, a musical and oratorical contest was held between Waterloo, Butler, and St. Joe. Waterloo came home as winners of all the musical events. The following Friday night, March 25, the final contest was held at Auburn. Waterloo did not win any first places but several second places. Waterloo was the only school that carried all five events to Auburn.

The Orchestra, in charge of Miss Fisher did some creditable work and could have done more if they had had the time to practice.

"Once in a Blue Moon" an operetta given by the Glee Club was the final of their activities for the year, which has been very successful.

—Iris Myers

ART

Under the Art instructor, Miss Fisher, some very good work has been accomplished this year. The work varied along different lines.

The Art class was open to Freshman, Sophomore, Junior, and Senior. The first semester a number of beautiful pastel pictures were completed besides original designing.

The second semester the class has been doing stencil work, interior decorating, costume designing, and painted an outdoor scene for the stage in the auditorium.

An art exhibit was given during the last of the school year. The beautiful pastel pictures, hand painted silk scarfs, and designing made a worthy showing for the class 1926-1927.

—Iris Myers

KAL KORN'S KULTURED KOONS

The Senior Class of the Waterloo High School gave a colored minstrel under the direction of Mr. W. H. Mustard on the evening of April 16, in the H. S. Auditorium.

First Part

The first part of the minstrel was made up of cross talk, jokes, songs, and other special attractions. Mr. Mustard acted as interlocutor. The men were all dressed in white trousers and dark coats, red neckties, white gloves and straw hats. This combination of dress made a lovely scene from the audience.

Second Part (Olio)

The olio was the scene of a small room in which a number of the members of the booster club were to hold a meeting. The purpose of the meeting is to name a candidate for judge. The chief candidate is Hon. Bill Johnson. Great excitement takes place at the end when a fire cracker was placed under the bench of the candidates.

The Cast

Charles Augustus Hotfoot, Howard Bard; Mr. Washington, Iris Myers; Mr. Muchmouth, Russell Palmer; Mr. Fussfeathers, Donald Pease; Mr. Smith, Dorothy Gifford; Mr. Thicklips, George Dilley; Mr. Cutup, Celestia Hanes; Hon. Bill Johnson, Eugene Showalter; Mr. Wishbone, Richard O'Brien; Mr. Goggenheimer, Dorothy Bonecutter.

ONCE IN A BLUE MOON

Operetta in three acts—Given by the W. H. S. Glee Club

The Story

After an absence of four years at college, "Bob" Harrington is expected to the home of his foster aunt, Mrs. Mary Montgomery whose daughter Sylvia was his boyhood sweetheart. Having fallen in love with another girl at college, he sends his chum, George Taylor, who closely resembles him, to substitute for him at the week-end party. George has always been anxiuos to meet Sylvia, whose picture greatly attracts him. He arrives amid preparations for a Spanish Fiesta and finds Sylvia more charming than her photograph.

Unexpected guests arrive in the persons of Sir Percival Chetwood and M. Rene LeMon and are welcome as distinguished noblemen by Mrs. Montgomery, and invited to remain for the festivities. That night while the guests were dancing a robbery takes place and the suspicion is turned on George who is forced to disclose his identity. Things look dark for him until the guilty parties are brought to justice. A telegram from the real "Bob" announcing his marriage leaves George to finish the story in the approved fashion.

The Cast

Moon Lady, Miss Fisher; Mrs. Montgomery, Marjorie Goodwin; Sylvia Montgomery, Daisy Bowman; Leatrice Montgomery, Muriel Beard; Betty Morton, June Campbell; Mrs. Li a Lavender, Mural Wise; Billy Maxwell, Charles Mayne; George Taylor, Wayne Voss; Sir Percival Chetwood, Wilson Shaffer; M. Rene LeMon, Alfred Fisher; Suzanne (a French maid), Margaret Crooks; Hop Sing Hi (the house man), Harry Beard; Skylark (the detective), Otto Shuman; Mooney (the policeman), Ora Zerkle.

THE ROAD TO THE CITY

A Comedy-Drama in four acts—Given by the Senior Class of the W. H. S.

The Story

The story opens with a scene in the living room, in the country home of Mrs. Sanderson. Richard James is found seated near the window. A few days previous Richard's car in which he was driving overturned in front of the Sanderson's home. They had taken him in and cared for his wounds. While he was there he fell in love with Mrs. Sanderson's daughter, Jet, who is a very charming girl. Toto, her cousin, does not like this as she wants Jet to marry Robert Darnell, and shows very often her disgust for Richard.

Richard and Mrs. Sanderson have a talk together and Richard tells her that he loves Jet and that he wants to marry her, as he is rich and can give her anything she wants. Meanwhile Toto and Robert have been talking about Jet, and Toto te ls him that Jet likes him and that he should ask her to marry him.

Jet retires early that night and dreams that she married Robert and lives a miserable life if it were not for his father. Meanwhile a suspicious character is always hanging around the house. When Richard learns of his father's will he plans to kill Jet; instead Jet pushes him out of the window. One day he returns and she is very much alarmed when the suspicious character turns out to be a detective and arrests Richard and "Lady Lily."

Jet awakens the next morning and finds it all a dream but Richard is leaving and is awaiting the final answer but she refuses. Just then Duke appears and handcuffs Richard.

Jet turns to Robert and says that she had dreamed all this and was glad she had not married him.

Jet and Robert were then happily married.

The Cast

Robert Darnell, Buell Smalley; Richard James, Russell Palmer; Jud Judkins, Bruce Shugart; John James, Ora Zerkle; Duke, Wilson Shaffer; Jet Sanderson, Iris Myers; Toto Lee, Dorothy Bonecutter; Lilly Morton, Dorothy Gifford; Mrs. Sanderson, Irene Deitzen; Marie (the maid) Agnes Kline.

INAUGURAL ADDRESS

Members of the C. L. S., Faculty and Friends:

I wish to thank the members of the C. L. S. for the honor which they have bestowed upon me, and I assure you that I will fulfill the duties of this office to the best of my ability.

We a l know that one person alone can not run this society, so with the help of the Faculty and the cooperation of every member of the society, I hope to hold the high standard of this society in literary work.

I thank you.

Wilson Shaffer, President Howard Bard, Sec. and Treas.

INAUGURAL ADDRESS

I wish to thank the members of the Ciceronian Literary Society for the office they have bestowed upon me and I hope that I may have the co-operation of all the members. With their co-operation I am sure we will be able to keep up the high standards set before us.

I thank you.

Wayne Voss, President Bruce Shugart, Sec. and Treas.

CICERONIAN SOCIETY

The Ciceronian Literary Society has had a very successful year. We have had better entertainments this year than ever in past years. This was due to the co-operation of all of the members, and also to the well equipped auditorium of the New High School bui ding.

The officers for the first semester were: Wilson Shaffer, President; Arling McIntosh, Vice President; Howard Bard, Secretary-Treasurer.

The officers for the second semester were: Wayne Voss, President; Rutheda Farrington, Vice President; Bruce Shugart, Secretary-Treasurer.

To the members of the Zedalethean Society;

I wish to thank every member of the Society for the honor of President, which they have bestowed upon me.

I feel that it is my duty as well as my pleasure to carry on the duties of this office to the best of my ability. I will try to follow in the footsteps of my predecessors inasmuch as they have all made a success of this Society in holding the same office.

Dorothy Gifford, President Harold Christoffel, Sec. and Treas.

INAUGURAL ADDRESS

Members of the Zedalethean Society, Faculty and Friends: :

I wish to thank the members of the Society for this office. I will not only try to keep up the standard of the Society but will try to push it on to a higher standard. The only way we can do this is by the co-operation of the society body.

Though I do hope the Zedalethean Society will maintain their standard in former years, it can only be done by a stronger determination and co-operation of the Society body.

I thank you.

Buell Smalley, President Robert Crooks, Sec. and Treas.

ZEDALETHEAN LITERARY SOCIETY

The Z. L. S. has had one of the most prosperous years since they were organized.

Officers were elected at the beginning of each semester and a program committee was appointed for the purpose of preparing the programs.

A program was given every month and a new committee was appointed each time so that everybody would have the opportunity to be on the committee.

LITERARY SOCIETIES

The Ciceronian and Zedalethean Literary societies have taken great interest in their work during the present school year. Each member tried to make his society the best.

Programs were given alternately every two weeks, by the two societies. In these programs instructive material was given as well as entertainment. Every student was required to appear at least once each semester on a program.

The Presidents of the societies appointed program committees to arrange the programs of the societies. Four members were appointed for this committee, a member was taken from each class. During these programs the Faculty had a chance to pick out their material for the oratorical and musical events that were given by the different schools of the county, which proved to be a success. We feel that these two societies have been a great help in maintaining the standard of the Waterloo High School.

BASKET BALL

BOYS TEAM

The basket ball season of 1926-27 was on the whole a very successful season. Starting the year with four men from last years team an eight was built up that went through the year with more victories than had been brought to Waterloo for the past several years. However we had other players who had been out before and soon worked into first team calibre. The season was opened at Waterloo with Hamilton which resulted in a victory and from that game on the team played consistent basket ball. We won 12 and lost 14 however we outscored our opponents and gave every team we played a hard game. Four of the fourteen games lost were 1 point defeats and 5 of the remaining were lost by a four point margin.

Waterloo scored a total of 623 points against their opponents 571 points.

The team showed willingness to work and fight and displayed good sportsmanship throughout. This year we lose six Seniors and their loss will be greatly felt. Voss and B. Smal ey playing forward and floor guard respectively will be greatly missed and their positions hard to fill. The other Seniors are Bard, Shugart, Shaffer, and Hallett.

Next years team will be built mainly around Pontius, Ankney, and R. Smalley. However there is good material present and with the same co-operation, willingness and hard work a team should be turned out next year as good as this years.

In addition to the three above mentioned, there will be Freshmen and Sophomores that will develop rapidly: C. Ayers, P. Ayers, W. Crooks, R. Childs, J. Bricker, H. Moyer, R. Crooks, with another pre-season practice, more size, weight, and age will be valuable men.

The school spirit this year has been of the best and it is only to be hoped that next year it will continue and even spread as without it, it is impossible to turn out a winning and successful team.

GIRLS TEAM

Starting this year with only 3 of last years letter girls back, but with a world of material and an abundance of pep and enthusiasm we had a team that played throughout the year, making a very good record, winning seven out of fifteen games. The girls showed good spirit and willingness to do their best.

Just one of the girls is lost to next years team and with the kind of an outlook we should have one of the best teams in this section. The showing made this year was a great deal better than for several years and with the many hard working willing subs and the new ones we should have a better and faster team next year. Beard, Gill, Heighn, Smith, and Farrington will be making this years regulars get busy early in the year to hold down their old positions.

District Tourney

Waterloo	Butler	36—20
Waterloo	Auburn	17—35

SCORES

Probably one of the most outstanding games of the season was our first one at Angola in the district tournament when we beat Butler by the score of 36-20. Having lost the two previous games of the year to Butler the boys came back strong and soon after the start of the game the outcome was not in doubt. However, luck was not with us on the drawing and we opposed Auburn in our next game.

The spirit of basket ball is growing in the High School and the community, and an honest desire to have a winning team. This year due to the loyalty and the enthusiasm of the boosters we were able to purchase new uniforms for both teams. Starting the year with a negative balance we came through with largest yearly receipts in years totaling over $650.00. The record crowd being when we played Auburn here in our gym before a crowd of 500 enthusiasts boosters.

Playing as we have under the handicap of a small gym and small crowds and boosters we have at all times given our opponents plenty of opposition. Let's everyone in the future keep on co-operating and working for bigger and stronger athletic teams. Teams that will play for the honor of playing, play square, and directly associated with this is everyone as backers of the Waterloo High, be fair and square and honest with our opponents and the officials. There is no better way of building up the reputation of the High School than in our athletic contests.

At the close of the season the following players were awarded honor sweaters: Seniors in black and gold (school colors), Wayne Voss, Buell Smalley, Bruce Shugart, Howard Bard, Wilson Shaffer.

Juniors, purple and gold (class colors), Roy Smalley, Clayton Pontius, Paul Ankney, Maxine Voss, Martha Griffin, Dorothy Gingrich.

Sophomores in blue and maroon (class colors), Marjorie Goodwin, Louise Stevenson.

Freshmen in scarlet and black (class colors), Mural Wise.

O. V. WINKS (Coach)

While coaching at Waterloo O. V. has become a favorite with the students of the W. H. S. He has coached the teams to fight 'em hard but clean. He wants good school spirit and has had the players hustling for him all the time. We hope he will remain with us next year.

WAYNE CARL VOSS (Captain)

Carl will be greatly missed next year due to graduation. For four years Waterloo fans have been looking to him as the mainstay of the team and opponents have put forth special efforts to stop his scoring. He received honorable mention for all district forward in his sophomore year and in his senior year. His playing throughout has been characterized by his good sportsmanship, fast and heady floor work and passing along with accurate basket shooting with always the team in mind and not himself. As captain of the team he led them to 12 victories, scoring a total of 318 points for an average of 13 points per game. (A 4-letter man).

ROY SMALLEY (Roy)

Roy is one of the regulars to be left to build next years team around and much is expected of him with his speedy floor work and ever willingness to take his share of the attack. Roy was third high scorer and on his shooting W. H. S. is going to have to depend a great deal next year. (A 2-letter man).

WILSON SHAFFER (Chad)

Chad stayed with us this year for a change instead of going to Florida. A tall rangy center upon whose tip-off we were practically assured in most games he played in. One of the Seniors that we will miss as he was fitting in our style of play. (A 1-letter man).

BUELL SMALLEY (Pete)

Pete, the fighting floor guard, who was always depended upon to cause the opponents forwards plenty of trouble. As hard a worker and fiighter as we had, Pete will be greatly missed and his position hard to fill next year. One to be depended upon and a good sport and willing worker. (A 2-letter man).

PAUL ANKNEY (Ank)

Ank broke into a first team suit this year and played a good game at backguard. Not in a position to be flashy, yet as important in bringing victory as any. With another years experience he will be good. A big man, hard worker, and one of the three first players to be left for next year. Ank should be the backbone of the defense in the next years team. (A 1-letter man).

BRUCE SHUGART (Shug)

Shug as yell leader this year proved to be a favorite. He had the spirit and pep and through his efforts the student body showed more pep and enthusiasm than it has in years. A late discovery but one that will be greatly missed.

CLAYTON PONTIUS (Pontie)

Pontie, one of the long boys that played regular center, a Junior to return to us next year. Pontie was second high scorer of the team and showed much improvement over last year, that great things are expected from him next year. Pontie, a willing worker, and a game player, should be the nucleus of next years team. (A 2-letter man).

HOWARD BARD (Bard)

Howard came to us this year from Corunna where he had played for three years. A scrappy hard working player, always jolly and needy for his share of defense or offense. Howard alternated between floor guard and forward. A dependable man in either place. Another one of the six seniors. (A 1-letter man).

BRUCE SHUGART (Shug)

Shug was always there working hard and plugging away mainly at backguard second team. Then a change to forward put new life in him and the last few games Shug played first team, winning his letter. Bruce will be missed a great deal as he had just come into his own. (A 1-letter man).

LUTHER HALLETT (Unk)

Unk was a hard worker, always trying and as valuable a man as we had because he kept all the other players busy holding onto their position. His willingness, attitude, and spirit were of the highest and Unk will be greatly lost next year, to the team.

CLIVE AYERS (Ayers)

Ayers, the only Sophomore playing, was a scrappy hard working man and in the next two years should show his true worth. Another of the famous line of Ayers' and following closely to their footsteps.

MARJORIE GOODWIN (Goodie)
(Captain)

Goodie is a Sophomore and Captain of this years girls team which played the most successful season in years, was the high point scorer of the year. A heady consistent hard working player, always willing in practice and games to do her part, a booster and a good sport. Great hopes are held out for "Goodie" in the future and we are depending on her sure eye and accurate shooting next year (A 2-letter girl).

MURAL WISE (Wise)

Mural, a Freshman and a regular forward this year, in the coming year shou'd develop into a more accurate shot and be one of the mainstays of the team. Plenty of fight and keeps at it throughout the game. She gives her guards plenty of work and always carries her share of attack (A 1-letter girl).

MARTHA GRIFFIN (Mart)

Mart as jumping center this year showed her ability in taking the tip off in most of the games played and thus did her part willingly and effectively in starting the play our way. (A 2-letter girl).

LOUISE STEVENSON (Hecky)

Louise as running center played a steady consistent game throughout the year. She was not a flashy player but always a willing hard worker and a good sport. (A 1-letter girl).

DOROTHY GINGRICH (Dot)

Dorothy as a regular guard showed a great improvement over last year and with the same fight and enthusiasm another year she should develop into an extra good player. Her first year of regular playing. A scrappy hard working, willing worker. (A 1-letter girl).

MAXINE VOSS (Max)

Max, a regular guard this year, a big guard hard to get around, a fighter and feared by the opponents. This guard will be with us another year and should be a tower of strength in her position. Plenty of fight and pep, a willing worker and good sport. (A 2-letter girl).

O. V. WINKS (Coach)

Mr. Winks, our coach has been with us two years and has spent a great share of his time in an effort to build up the teams. His patience and courage that he has shown to the teams has won a place in the heart of every basket ball player. Besides the games of basket ball, he has taught us co-operation, good sportsmanship and clean playing.

RUTHEDA FARRINGTON (Tead)

Rutheda played at running center the year out. Although a Junior she did not come out until this year but gained for herself a regular position. Rutheda left us at the close of the season. The only one we lose.

MARY DUNCAN (Dunc)

Mary playing as substitute guard her Freshman year, shows great possibilities for the future. A big girl and a willing worker in her position.

MARIAN MUSTARD

Marian, another Freshman playing as a substitute guard developed a great deal and in the coming years should be able to fill very effectively that position. An enthusiastic worker.

ERMA G. FAUSETT (Ermie)

Miss Fausett, our manager, has been a "real mother" to the girls of the basket ball team. She weeps with us when we lose and rejoices when we win. When we are injured she is the first one to our aid. She is loved by all the girls and we all hope that she will remain with us next year.

BASE BALL AND TRACK

This sport is one that is considered of minor importance in the high schools and yet one of considerable value. It is hard to enter into very extensively due to two important factors. The season is necessarily short as baseball weather only lasts a few weeks in the spring and during that time there is so many days it is impossible to play or practice on account of the weather.

This year we were also handicapped by lack of practice and a diamond. However we were able to get our diamond fixed up ready for play and had a few home games. Next year we will be able to start out immediately when our season opens up.

Our team was handicapped by the lack of practice but played good ball but were too free with errors. The battery of Palmer and Smalley worked good and we were always able to get as many hits as our opponents but we were especially weak on fielding.

The team was composed of Buell Smalley, catcher; Russell Palmer, pitch; Wayne Voss, first base; Harold Moyer, second base; Bruce Shugart, short; Robert Crooks, third; Roy Smalley, rightfield; Wilson Shaffer, center; Albert Dunn, left; Wayne Crooks and Ora Zerkle, utility men. Of this bunch we lost by graduation, Russell, Buell, Wayne, Bruce, Wilson and Ora.

However, we have a lot of prospective material in the Freshman class which is a very hopeful sign as they will be with us several years yet, and with a good diamond and plenty of practice we should be able to have a good team next year.

We started the season against Auburn over there with only one night's practice and that on the street in front of the school house. However we gave Auburn a good game losing 9 and 8 in five innings, being rained out at that time. We outplayed Auburn but a few costly errors due to lack of practice cost us the game. The next game with Garrett we were not so successful as a total of 24 errors in seven innings gave them the one-sided victory.

TRACK

A new sport here and one that we have not been able to develop properly but with some good prospects, with Eugene Showalter in the distance runs, Wilson Shaffer and Russell Palmer in the high jump, Roy Smalley and Buell Smalley in the dashes and broad jumps we will be able to develop more material with time and practice.

Book 5. Satire

SPRING TIME

April buds and April showers,
Bluebirds and robins on the wing,
Johnny-jumpups and other flowers
Charmingly remind us that it is spring.

The rooster crows a little louder,
The peacock struts a little prouder,
The cardinal grossbeak begins to sing;
Surey enough it's coming spring.

Horses neigh and cattle low,
Farmer John goes out to sow,
The fire burns and the dinner bells ring
On the farm it looks like spring.

At school, there's fever in the air
Heads bowed low and study rare,
The weather is warm, boy's coats they fling,
Life indoors is distasteful in spring.

Mother wants a new Easter hat,
Father's purse is somewhat flat,
To the city she goes for an ostrich wing,
A very sure sign the season is spring.

Out in the garden with spade and hoe,
Lettuce and cabbage each put in a row,
Bonnet and cap are given a fling,
Shirt sleeves and aprons are the style in the spring.

The brook in the meadow goes bounding along,
As Farmer John works while singing his song,
And Willie is out with kite and string;
To drink deep in the joys of spring.

—F. E. PALMER

INNOCENT YET GUILTY

I was a very dismal woman as I walked down the road to town. My husband had only a few days before, been accused of a theft amounting to about $50,000 in jewels. I came to a turn in the road and a cold hand grabbed me, another was placed over my mouth. I was told to follow peacefully or they would gag me. We walked for a long distance and came to a closed car. The road was so muddy that the men could drive no further, so they were forced to walk behind until the road was better. They drove very fast; I guess I fainted for when I came to the men were opening the door of the car and asked me to get out. I saw an old house which was once a popular mansion. I was taken to the door and shoved inside. Here I was confronted by two more men who led me up a creaking stairs to a small room where two more men stood.

I could scarcely see anything in the candle light. I was asked to take a drink of whiskey to brace me up and at the first swallow I fainted again. I again came to with a man bathing my head and another fanning me with an old newspaper. I sat up on the cot and gazed around the room which I could now see more plainly. It was not very large; there were a couple of windows that were nailed shut. There was a small rug near the door, an old table, a few chairs, another cot, and a large hole in the ceiling which looked as if it was meant for escape.

A moment later I heard a clattering on the stairs and the door flew open and two men pushed my husband into the room. His hands were securely tide and the ropes cut his wrists. I rushed to him and threw my arms about his neck and kissed him and begged the men to untie the ropes. The men only jerked me back to my cot and told me to speak when spoken to.

I found I could do nothing and I broke down in convulsive sobbing. The men in the corner spoke and asked when Bill and Jim would be back, another one passed the cigars to the men and the room was soon filled with a foul odor of tobacco that arose to my nostrils from the corner in which they were sitting. The were talking quietly when three men arose and opened the door from which they led five other people, Ione Studebaker who had given the party for his niece, Miss Lorene Studebaker, to whom the jewels belonged, and Count and Lady Stuane, the two foreign guests, who had been at the party. The other was unknown but looked as if she might be the Count's sister, although he did not recognize her.

The newcomers were asked to be seated and the men took off their masks. One was a detective who was working for Mr. Studebaker, the other was a partner and five were policemen. I understood now that they were working to recover the stolen jewels.

I looked at my husband who was staring at me, and soon another man untied his wrists.

The detective arose, cleared his throat and spoke: "Sometime ago Miss Studebaker arrived from Italy where she had been studying art. Her uncle gave a party for her. Among her guests were Mr. and Mrs. Harvey, being distant relatives to the Studebaker family, and Count Stuane and his sister. Miss Studebaker studied at their estate in Italy and was glad that they might be present. The Stuanes seemed interested in the home of the Studebakers and asked permission to wander through it and look at the relics and things that were interesting. They spent a long time doing this and during one of their trips the lights were extinguished. After that the jewels were found missing. The blame was laid upon Mr. and Mrs. Harvey and we were ordered to follow them. We saw no suspicious movements, but the man who watched the Stuanes saw the Lady go to the department store and buy thread to match her coat.

"Now Lady Stuane, if you will kindly remove your coat you will prevent the use of force." She did so and the detective cut the heavy fur sleeves. The jewels fell out to the floor. The Count made a dash for the door but was caught and handcuffed.

The detective spoke again: "Count and Lady Stuane are the only heirs left to a vast estate in Italy. Lady Stuane left their home to visit and on her visit met Miss Studebaker, they became fast friends. Meanwhile the Count thinking his sister was to be married found a girl who looked like her and made her an ally for his daring plots and robberies.

"The Count and his Lady friend will now go to the station while we try to clear the name of Mr. and Mrs. Harvey."

A PARODY

THE VILLAGE SCHOOL HOUSE

Upon a muddy meadow lot,
    Our high school building stands,
Made in splendid architecture
    To meet the towns demands;
This rare product of masonry—
    It overlooks our land.

Its brick are laid row upon row,
    And glisten in the sun,
And broad halls echo with hasty steps
    When the days work is done,
The walls resound each hearty cheer
    At every victory won.

The teachers coming early here
    Walk in at the open door;
They see the rooms all clean and neat
    Soon to be cluttered o'er,
With papers, books, and pencils
    And dust upon the floor.

The children come at morn and noon
    Up the narrow cindered lane,
Some hurrying toward the building
    Humming a gay refrain,
Others slowly, sighing,
    Thinking all their learning in vain.

Week in, week out from morn till night
    With boys and girls it's filled,
How sad is vacation time
    When the spacious rooms are stilled,
With furance fires forgotten,
    And the atmosphere so chilled.

The classes come, the classes go;
    They part, who learned together;
New students fill the places of the o'd—
    Gone from the school forever,
But still the faithful building stands
    To protect the school's endeavor.

—Celestia Hanes

MON NICOTINE

Let me have a cigarette,
You know I'm fond of Camels;
I mean tobacco don't forget,
And not those desert animals.

You all may speak against tobac,
Condemn it all you wish,
I cannot go without my sack
Of nicotonic push.

If I were now to be marooned
I wouldn't give a bean
For my life without a sack
Of "Mon Cher" nicotine.

If now and then by chance I'm broke
I don't feel so blue
I'd just go up to some old stoke
And say "gimme a chew."

If he declines and says, I've none,
I do not turn and fret.
I just ask another one,
Gimme a cigarette.

VOCATIONAL AGRICULTURE

The purpose of Agriculture in High School is to teach the boys the new methods of farming. For every year there is new material published on farming and on different diseases and insects that the farmer must watch for and fight.

Agriculture should be taught in school for any person that cares for the study. There are many boys who live in town that are not very well acquainted with agriculture. By taking this subject they can learn many things.

Some of the subjects that may be studied are as follows—Soils, Agricultural Engineering, Farm Crops, and Animal Husbandry.

Agriculture is not only the study of different things, but also experience, for every student taking any of these various subjects must carry with the subject a project.

In the past two years while Mr. Winks has been here, he has done a great deal of work in Agriculture, both in class and project work. This year the Freshmen and Sophomores have done some fine work in the shop.

A few of the students who were awarded prizes were, Clive Ayers, first prize at the county and second at the state; Noah Hamman won second at the county and fifth at the state.

There were eight exhibits sent to the Indiana State Show in January. The prizes that were awarded amounted to about one hundred dollars.

O. V. Winks, director of the Vocational Agriculture of the High School spent several days at Purdue, May 4-6, when the vocational members of the schools of Indiana held the round up at the university. Those in the party from Waterloo were: Waldo Crooks, James Bricker, Clair Walker, Wayne Voss, Walter Wing, Bruce Shugart, Albert Dunn, Floyd Myers, Howard Hines, Robert Boyer, Donald Pease.

LOCALS

THE MIMEOGRAPH

The mimeograph typing machine was purchased by the school board at the beginning of the school year. This machine has proven to be very helpful in advertising for the school, it is also used to write scripts, examination questions, tardy blanks, excuse blanks and many other blanks.

THE MOVIES

The Dennis Lyceum Bureau of Wabash, Indiana, took moving pictures of the different c asses of the school and business places of the town. These pictures and eight reels of historical features, entitled, "The Birth of a Nation", were shown at the High School Auditorium. Many were surprised to see that they were a real movie fan. The historical pictures were very instructive to those who are in school and many others who are out of school. A certain percent of the proceeds was given to the school which was used to buy scenery for the stage.

THE SCHICK TEST

The Schick Test was given in the Waterloo High School on February twenty-eight by the DeKalb County Nurse. The Test was done by the local physicians. These tests have been made throughout the entire state in order to prevent the spread of diphtheria and also to immunize the peop e against diphtheria.

NEW HIGH SCHOOL AUDITORIUM

The auditorium of the Waterloo High School has proven to be one of the most efficient entertaining places in the community. Its capacity is sufficient to accommodate nearly five hundred people at one time. The auditorium throughout is of the finest workmanship. The stage floor is a hard wood which is laid over a cement coating of coarse gravel and cement which makes it a very permanent foundation. The seats which were installed were fastened to the floor with expanding lugs through the cement which holds them very solid. Special lighting has been arranged for the stage, such as dome lights, foot lights and side lights which is a great advantage for special scenes for entertainment.

THE HEATING SYSTEM

The heating system of this New High School building is one of the most modern up-to-date systems on the market. It consists of two large Kewanee low pressure boilers, used in supplying the steam to the radiators throughout the building. The steam and condensed vapor throughout the system is pumped back into the boilers from the condensing tank. After it goes through the pipes it is taken back and reheated through the boilers so there is very litt e loss in water. Ventilation is carried on through the drafts that are regulated by shutters under each radiator. The cold air carries the heat throughout the rooms by circulation and all foul air is taken from the room by means of foul air drafts which carry it out through the ventilators on the roof.

JOKES

Richard O'Brien, Biology Lab.—The patients room and clothing should be disinfected and hung up in the sun.

Mr. Fee—When do we use periods?
Muriel B. (dreamily)—After dates.

Celestia H.—I have read that one shou'd eat a certain amount of fish daily as a brain food. Wonder how much I need?
Agnes K.—Gosh! You need a whale on toast every morning for breakfast.

Mary D.—Isn't an idiot crippled someway?
Mr. Fee—Yes, in the head is all.

Soph. (earnestly)—"Now, honestly, what would you do if you were in my shoes "
Senior (disdainfully)—"Get a shine."

Not Guilty Soph.—"Did you take a bath?"
Freshman—"No, is there one missing."

(A Different Dame). Freshman—"What a fine statue that is! It's alabaster, isn't it?
Sophomore—"No, that's Aphrodite."

(Cute Mascot) Luther—"I have a new attachment for my car."
Maxine—"What is it?"
Luther—"Sheriffs."

Mother—"So you have been in the jam again, son."
Son—"The cupboard came open itself, Mother, and I thought—"
Mother—"Why didn't you say, 'Get thee behind me Satan?' "
Son—"So I did, mother; and he went and pushed me right in."

Marshal—So you saw the accident, sir. What was the number of the car that knocked this man down?
Mr. Mustard—I'm afraid I've forgotten it. But I do remember noticing that if it were multiplied by 50, the cube root of the product would be equal to the sum of the digits reversed.

Miss Fausett—How can Edison live and only sleep four hours a day?
Charles M.—He can survive on four hours of sleep because after he gets used to it, he can sleep faster.

"My dear young lady," said the clergyman in a grieved tone as he listened to an extremely young lady play some of the modern jazz upon the piano, "Have you ever heard of the Ten Commandments?"
Daisy B.—Whistle a few bars, I think I can follow you.

Mr. Palmer (speaking on the phone)—"You say Wayne has a bad cold and will not be able to attend school today. Who is this speaking?"
Wayne Crooks (voice hoarsely)—"My father sir."

(Physics). Mr. Mustard—"Arling did you weigh that ice?"
Arling—"No, will it weigh more when it is melted?"
Mr. Mustard—"Hardly."

Mr. Palmer—"Where did you say the population was most dense?"
Harry B.—"Just above the neck."

Loretta Schuler—"One time when my mother was a young lady she said she had a beau.
Mr. Fee—Maybe you had better explain yourself; some of the Freshman boys may not know what you mean.

Mr. Fee—Edward, what did the crosses stand for on the map, did you ever write any of those letters yet?
Edward S.—Nope not yet.

The man and a girl were saying good night on the doorstep when a window above was pushed open and a weary voice said, "My dear sir, I have no objections of your coming here and sitting up half of the night with my daughter, nor even your standing on the doorstep saying goodnight, but out of consideration for the rest of the household who wish to sleep, will you kindly take your elbow off of the door bell?"

THERE are innumerable details which enter into the printing text and layout of Annuals that cannot be gleaned from books or acquired from a series of lectures. "Tricks of the trade" we all call them; little things that the experienced eye is quick to observe and the experienced hand quick to master. There are a thousand and one of them, seeming trifles in the printing of an Annual which can make or mar the finished book. Our long experience and specialization can reveal what they are and how to correct, improve or avoid them.

Retrospect

SEPTEMBER

On September seventh the old familiar bell pealed forth its call. Over one hundred students found their way to the east end of town, where they entered the welcome doors of the new school building. The Seniors as well as the Freshmen grouped through the spacious halls trying to find a comfortable parking place.

Rain! Rain! Rain! Everyone is wearing new slickers but forget their rubbers for wading the mud. The classes were organized and plans made for the Freshman reception. They all seem very much excited and tremble when they hear anyone mention it.

The teachers gave us a vacation for the fair which was sadly spoiled by rain. With September goes confusion in the schoolroom and everybody settles down to work.

OCTOBER

With October, comes bright sunny days, basket ball, society organization, and hooky. Teachers lay down first rules, primping ceases in the assembly and books follow the students home every evening. Why should our joys of the first few weeks be spoiled by the grade cards being decorated in red? Every one seems to be well pleased with the society program which displayed unusual talent. The student body make the auditorium ring practicing basket ball yells. Senior staff is plunging whole heartedly into the task of making a better annual than ever before. The furnace refuses to respond to the coaxing of the janitor, as a result sweaters are dug out of moth balls to keep us from freezing to death. Oh, how we like to put our initials on the new sidewalk. Seniors are not sorry that the Physics equipment has not arrived. We also have a basket ball team to be proud of. YEA TEAM LETS GO.

NOVEMBER

The Juniors are excited over plans for rings and the Sophomores catching the excitement send for pins. The entire school celebrates Armistice Day by a parade through town. Literary societies are still shining and the programs getting better every time. The equipment for Physics Laboratory has arrived and the Seniors enjoy them as new mechanical toys. We use good English for an entire week, then gone but not forgotten. The autograph albums are becoming more numerous, for what girl has none? On Wednesday, November 24, the first six grades gave a Thanksgiving program in the new auditorium.

It was well given and the whole community attended, and afterwards were shown about the building. It was the first time the new curtain was used which made a beautiful display. Then Thanksgiving with all its eats and pains and a short vacation.

DECEMBER

December arrives with a lovely sleet which kept us slipping along losing our equilibrium. We wonder why all the tardy boys have decided to come on time. Everyone is wearing new boots to wade the snow. The building of the chimney seems to be getting higher as they add brick after brick. Rices' get the photography contract and the Seniors have the first chance to pose as they want to play Santa Claus with them. I guess the school board will have to get busy and get some mouse traps as Mr. Mustard has been too busy to catch all of the mice. The Senior Christmas bake sale proved to be very successful. The Ciceronian Christmas program proved to be the best Literary program given this year. Then comes Christmas, Saint Nicholas, and one blissful week of vacation.

JANUARY

How many New Years resolutions have you broken? Where is Mr. Fee? Miss Wilson thinks we are terribly dumb but it must have been vacation which dulled our minds. Oh those mid-year examinations! Underclassmen take trip to Rices' studio. The girls tried to persuade Mr. Palmer to play hooky. We are forever wading snow drifts. Lectures for women were given in the auditorium by the State Board of Health. Senior penny supper takes good as usual. Mr. Fee has returned pale but happy, and every student seems to have a different smile on their face. The thermometer is descending to 14 below zero. Civics gone forever. Economics arrives on the scene of battle. Grade cards gayly decorated in red cause anything but gay feelings among the student body. Gone is the first semester. Gone is the first month of the year.

FEBRUARY

February is here. Contestants are busy preparing to win honors for W. H. S. The "Variety Program" given by the Juniors on the third displayed unusual talent and was well attended. Otto and Harold "shur are some niggahs." The baseball teams organize and start practice for the season. We have all joined the "movies"; everyone from the first grade to Bert Bachtel appears on the screen, the 16th. The returns went toward the new scenery. Everyone misses Mr. Palmer while he was at the funeral of his aged mother. Both societies reorganize and give a program during the month, which are better attended by parents. The Schick test was given in all the different localities including Waterloo. A number of our girls and sheiks took the Schick test. We wonder who invented the new calendar with 31 days. February must be growing.

MARCH

March comes in like a lion with frost, snow, and ice, and then turns so warm that some of the boys can not resist the temptation of playing hooky. The tournament and society games end the basket ball season. Next comes the elimination contest followed closely by the contest at St. Joe. The truant boys returned with great themes consisting of pages of Latin translation and dozens of Algebra problems. Rutheda Farrington leaves our circle to join the matrimonial circle. Mr. Palmer tries to find a speck of green in his blue tie on the 17th and Mr. Fee is sure he has on at least a molecule of the color. The International Business College entertain us with a musical program. I wonder why Mr. Mustard chased the boys away from the window when the bus came. Contestants finally go to Auburn for the last time. March goes out like a lamb leaving two more months of school. 'Twont be long now until the Commencement.

APRIL

The first grand April fool joke was the "Zeda" program, featuring the "Worlds' Best Orchestra". The sweaters were displayed, misplaced, and presented to the basket ball players who took part in the games played this year. Two romantic Seniors are causing quite a lot of attraction; ask Iris or Russell for information (poor Bill). Dr. Vanderbilt spoke for the opening exercise about the beauties of South America. The Senior girls have decided to go there on their honeymoon if they have any. The Senior Minstrel Show on the 15th woke up the town to the fact that we were pretty good colored gentlemen and Mr. Mustard a pretty good sheik. The last society program, last but not least. This decides the winner for the year, namely—Ciceronians. Everybody has a new Easter bonnet and search all over the universe for the painted eggs. Miss Fisher's "Once in a Blue Moon" is another achievement of April, with its lovely background of hand painted scenery. With showers and flowers the month is gone.

MAY

May is the loveliest month in the year with all its beautiful flowers and bright blue skies. How can anyone study when nature cal's from every direction. The Botany class is searching the woods for spring flowers which are needed to complete their course. This is not a disagreeable pastime. Then comes the reception with its pretty dresses and fine feathers. Who said the girls were more vain than the boys? Senior class play follows closely after reception. Mr. Mustard thinks that the Seniors need an extra week for vacation and preparation for Commencement so he decides to give it to them for "once". After those exams are over we all are happy. After Baccalaureate comes Commencement with the sad glad climax of the year.
